 - ✚ I used Deborah Norville Everyday Soft Worsted Solids in Snow White, Mist, Black, and Aubergine
- ✚ US Size 8 Needles
- ✚ Tapestry Needle for weaving in ends

NOTES

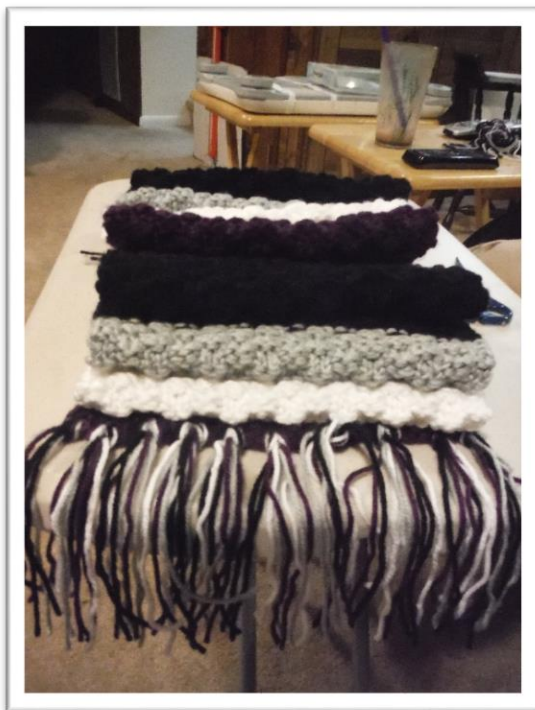

You can, of course, use any size yarn you want, as the pattern is very adaptable. Simply use the recommended needle size and increase or decrease the number of cast on stitches by a multiple of four.

COLORS

I used the purple, white, grey, black colors of the Asexual Pride flag (hence the name), but you can use anything you like. Use school or sports team colors, pride flag colors, Hogwarts House Colors, or simply your favorite colors are all optional. The idea of the pattern is ease and adaptability.

DISCLAIMER

This is my first ever published pattern. It has not been beta knit, and as such all mistakes are my own. Feel free to message me at any time with questions.

INSTRUCTIONS

Holding two strands together, cast on 30 stitches.

Row One: Knit 2, purl 2 to end.

Row Two: Purl 2, Knit 2 to end.

Row Three: Purl 2, Knit 2 to end.

Row Four: Knit 2, Purl 2 to end.

Repeat rows One through Four until scarf is desired length.

FOR STRIPED SCARF

Stripes are achieved by changing colors approximately every eight or nine inches. For me this meant changing every five repeats.

FINISHING

One scarf is desired length (or you run out of yarn like I did), cast off in pattern and then weave in all loose ends. Make tassels according to your preferred method. I cut mine about a foot long, holding a strand of each color (so for strands total) for each one. By the time they were doubled in half and secured, then trimmed to about an even length, they hang about five inches long.
