

GENGHIS THE EAGLE

Smiles A Lot

My boyfriend told me that he likes eagles and wolves so I decided I had to make one of these for him. After looking on Ravelry and just about everywhere on the internet, I found that there are virtually no free eagle patterns. I could have just made do with a wolf but that seemed far too easy so here is my pattern for a cute little eagle.

He got his name when I made a joke that if my boyfriend named the eagle he would end up with a name like Genghis then realised that it was actually quite a good name after all.

Need:

- 3.5 mm crochet hook.
- Double Knitting or Worsted wool in the following colours:
  - Dark brown

Making Up

Stuff the body and head.

Sew the head onto the body using the row before the fancy edging leaving the edging loose.

Flatten the wings and sew onto the body.

Sew up the two shortest sides of the beak to form a cone. Stuff and sew onto the head.

Sew the feet onto the body.

Sew eyes on with black wool.
