SAGITTARIA

A study of vertices

sagittaria

Sagittaria is a study in softening triangular vertices through juxtaposition with other polygons. The end result is a luxurious shoulder shawl. The arrowhead lace is worked vertically adding a linear element. Alchemy Sanctuary creates a warm shawl with beautiful drape.

Information

Skill Level: Intermediate

Special Abbreviations:
CDD: Central double decrease: slip two stitches together knitwise, k1 pass both slipped sts over the k st.

Constructions Notes: The shawl is worked from the neck down. Charts only show right side rows. Work wrongside rows as instructed in directions. It may be helpful to place markers after the first two border sts, before the last two border sts and to denote the central chart, this is delineated in blue on the main chart.

Directions:

Cast On:

Cast on 2 sts. Work 26 rows in garter st(knit every row). Leaving the two sts on the right hand needle, pick up 23 ridges along the side of the piece. Then pick up the two cast on sts. (27 sts.)
Begin shawl pattern:

Work right side rows following the scarf chart. Work WS rows thus: k2, purl to the last 2 sts, k2. The main chart shows the entire rows. The other two charts show the triangle section enlarged and the central section enlarged.

Work rows 1-14 one time. Then work rows 15-30 three times. Each time you repeat these 15 rows, two multiples (marked in red) will be added to each triangle section. then work rows 15-21 again. End with row 21-RS.
Knit 2 rows.
Next Row (WS): Bind off all sts thus: K1 *place st from left needle on right needle k together through the back loop with the next st. Repeat from * to end. Pull yarn through last st.
Weave in ends and block to measurement.
