Simple Trekking Socks

Designed by Miriam L. Felton

These socks were designed to showcase the beautiful colors and subtle variegations of Trekking XXL sock yam, but could be done beautifully in any subtly variegated yam.

The simple texture at cuff and toe gives a bit of interest for both the knitter and the wearer. The k2 p2 ribbing and the reinforced stitch on the heel flap give comfort and durability to the socks, making them great for hiking, walking, or any activity where your feet need extra protection.

CONSTRUCTION:

These socks are worked from the cuff down, in k 2 p 2 ribbing with an altemating rib at cuff and toe. The heel is a tumed modified round heel working in reinforced "heel" stitch for added durability. The toe is a wedge toe worked over 2" with decrease rows spaced to make for a rounder more comfortable fit.

NOTES:

- If you need a wider foot, you can reduce the number of decreases in the gusset, but make sure that you are still left with a multiple of 4 sts so that the toe patteming will work out. Also, please remember to divide foot stitches evenly over 4 needles before working the toe.
- The pattem is numbered for using 4 needles for the cuff and 5 needlesfor the foot. If you prefer to use 4 needles for the foot, simply count needles $2 & 3$ as needle 2 and consider needle 4 to be needle 3.
- You will be instructed to cast on with a larger size needle, this will ensure that your cast on will be stretchy enough to accommodate the ribbing. If you prefer, you may cast on with a double thic kness of yam instead, it will a chieve the same results.

PATTERN:

Cuff (worked in the round)

-C ast on 72 sts using a needle 1 or 2 sizes larger than your main needles, transfer stitches to 4 of the smaller needles (18 sts per needle) & join in the round.
