

TINY CHICKENS (Tail Add-on)

A pattern by: yesterdaydream.com

I recently found Anna Hrachovec's pattern for Tiny Chickens and they've been so fast and fun to knit up. Some of you who recently received orders may have found one who hitched a ride.

In making these little cuties, I've come up with a quick add-on tail for them. You can easily use different colors and skip the comb at the top of their head to have the look of many other birds. Below is my version of a pigeon, made using this very pattern.

The tail add-on is very simple:

Flip the chicken upside-down and with color 1, pick up and knit 3 stitches on the bottom center of the body, just where a tail would be:

Row 1: Purl

Row 2: KFB, K1, KFB

Row 3: Bind off

Break yarn and weave in ends.

When you're finished, it should look like the photo above. Happy knitting!

© yesterdaydream.com, 2013. My designs, photos and descriptions are protected by copyright. They may not be duplicated, copied, reproduced and/or republished without permission or notice. All rights reserved. Please feel free to sell the finished products, as long as you give design credit to yesterdaydream.com